

More is at stake than money. This is an attack on the American way of life. The freedoms which so many have fought and died for are under attack. Every American should have the right to enjoy high quality digital media for his own personal use without restrictions. This will not hurt the music industry, but rather encourage people to listen to music more